Love Disappointment Report

Prepared for: Aarav Sharma

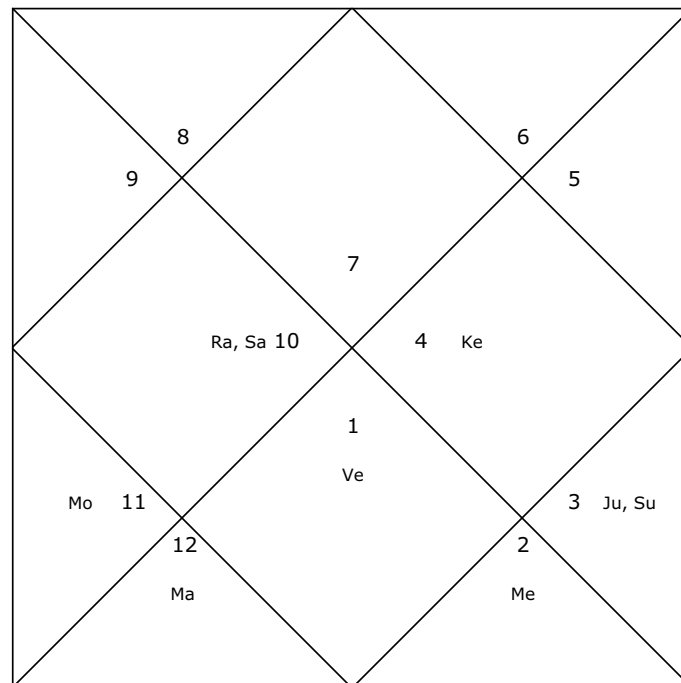

Report Date: 20/09/2026

EMOTIONAL RELATIONSHIP PATTERN

Emotionally sensitive but capable of steadiness

The chart shows relationship sensitivity through a strong 5th-house Moon, a 7th-house Venus whose lord is in the 6th, and Saturn-Rahu influence on the 4th-house emotional foundation, alongside meaningful stabilising factors.

- Moon is placed in the 5th house in Aquarius.
- Venus is placed in the 7th house in Aries.
- The 7th-house lord Mars is placed in the 6th house in Pisces.
- Saturn and Rahu are placed in the 4th house in Capricorn.

1. Emotional Relationship Pattern

Finding: The chart indicates a pattern of emotional sensitivity, strong relationship focus, and recurring stress when affection, expectations, and practical conflict become mixed together. It does not by itself establish betrayal, separation, or any specific action by another person.

Real astrological basis: The Libra Ascendant lord Venus is placed in the 7th house in Aries. The 7th-house lord Mars is placed in the 6th house in Pisces. Moon is placed in the 5th house in Aquarius. Saturn and Rahu are together in the 4th house in Capricorn.

Practical meaning: Relationships may carry substantial importance for identity and emotional fulfilment. Disappointment can arise when idealised emotional expectations meet disagreement, competing needs, criticism, or unresolved practical matters. The chart is better understood as showing a need for emotional clarity and constructive conflict management, not as predicting a particular relationship outcome.

2. Attachment & Expectation Indicators

Finding: Attachment stress is more likely to relate to mental interpretation, emotional expectation, and the need for reassurance than to a single fixed relationship result.

Real astrological basis: The 5th-house Moon places emotional response, affection, and expectation in the 5th-house area. Its sign is Aquarius, while the 5th-house lord Saturn is placed in the 4th house in Capricorn. Venus, the Ascendant lord, is in the 7th house, increasing the importance of partnership themes to the person's sense of self.

Practical meaning: Emotional reactions may become more pronounced when there is ambiguity around affection, consistency, or future expectations. Aquarius Moon symbolism can support perspective and objectivity, but it may also create a tendency to mentally process feelings rather than state them plainly. Naming the actual need—reassurance, clarity, space, or practical cooperation—can reduce avoidable emotional escalation.

3. 5th / 7th / 8th / 12th House Evidence

Finding: The relevant houses show a combination of emotional investment, relationship effort, deeper uncertainty, and private mental processing.

Real astrological basis:

- The 5th house is Aquarius and contains the Moon. Its lord Saturn is placed in the 4th house in Capricorn.
- The 7th house is Aries and contains Venus. Its lord Mars is placed in the 6th house in Pisces.
- The 8th house is Taurus and contains Mercury. Its lord Venus is placed in the 7th house in Aries.
- The 12th house is Virgo and is empty. Its lord Mercury is placed in the 8th house in Taurus.

Practical meaning: The occupied 5th house gives emotional and romantic themes direct importance. The 7th lord in the 6th can associate relationship matters with recurring adjustment, disagreement, service, competing routines, or problem-solving. Mercury in the 8th can make trust, vulnerability, shared responsibilities, and unspoken concerns important subjects for careful discussion. The empty 12th house remains analyzable through Virgo, its lord Mercury, and Mercury's placement in the 8th; it does not indicate absence of emotional or private relationship themes.

4. Venus / Moon / Saturn / Rahu-Ketu Factors

Finding: Venus provides a direct relationship orientation, while Moon, Saturn, and Rahu show different forms of emotional sensitivity and internal pressure. Ketu adds a separate theme of detachment around life direction, but the supplied data does not establish a specific relationship event from it.

Real astrological basis: Venus is in Aries in the 7th house and, according to the supplied aspect summary, Venus aspects the 1st house. Moon is in Aquarius in the 5th and aspects the 11th house according to the supplied summary. Saturn is in Capricorn in the 4th and aspects the 1st, 6th, and 10th houses. Rahu is also in the 4th house. Ketu is in the 10th house in Cancer.

The targeted aspect summary lists Saturn and Ketu in the 7th-house assessment, but the detailed Saturn aspect list specifically gives aspects to the 1st, 6th, and 10th houses, not the 7th. No specific Ketu aspect is supplied, so no additional Ketu aspect is inferred.

Practical meaning: Venus in the 7th can support a clear desire for partnership and mutual engagement, while Aries can make directness and independence important within relationships. Moon in the 5th can heighten emotional investment in affection and recognition. Saturn-Rahu in the 4th may correspond with a serious, restless, or unsettled inner emotional atmosphere, making security and emotional grounding especially important. Ketu in the 10th may indicate periods of detachment or re-evaluation regarding public direction and responsibilities; the supplied evidence does not justify extending that into a prediction about another person.

5. Recurring Stress Patterns

Finding: The main recurring challenges indicated are expectation-versus-reality tension, conflict requiring repeated resolution, and internalising uncertainty.

Real astrological basis: The 5th-house Moon shows emotional involvement in affection and expectations. The 5th lord Saturn is placed in the 4th with Rahu. The 7th-house lord Mars is placed in the 6th. Mercury, lord of the 9th and 12th houses, is placed in the 8th, while the 8th-house lord Venus is placed in the 7th.

Practical meaning: Relationship stress may become repetitive when concerns are held privately, interpreted without verification, or revisited without a workable agreement. The 6th-house placement of the 7th lord supports addressing problems through practical cooperation, but it can also make unresolved disagreements a recurring focus. Mercury in the 8th favours careful conversations about sensitive subjects, shared responsibilities, boundaries, and trust rather than indirect testing or speculation.

6. Stabilising / Protective Factors

Finding: The chart contains substantial capacity for steadiness through commitment, reflection, direct partnership engagement, and practical problem-solving.

Real astrological basis: Saturn is placed in its own sign Capricorn in the 4th house, and it is also the lord of the 4th and 5th houses. Venus, the Libra Ascendant lord, is placed in the 7th house. The Moon is in the 5th house, and Jupiter and Sun are placed in the 9th house in Gemini. Jupiter is the lord of the 3rd and 6th houses and is placed in the 9th.

Practical meaning: Saturn can support structure, endurance, and responsibility when emotional life is given consistent routines. Venus in the 7th supports willingness to engage with partnership directly. The 9th-house emphasis can support perspective, learning, ethical reflection, and stepping back from immediate emotional reactions. These factors do not remove challenges, but they support mature handling of them.

7. Current Dasha Context

Finding: The current and upcoming dasha windows place greater emphasis on introspection, sensitive communication, relationship evaluation, and emotional themes. They should not be read as fixed relationship-event predictions.

Real astrological basis: Mercury Mahadasha–Mercury Antardasha runs from 01/07/2025 to 28/11/2027. Mercury is placed in the 8th house in Taurus and rules the 9th and 12th houses. Mercury Mahadasha–Ketu Antardasha runs from 28/11/2027 to 24/11/2028. Mercury Mahadasha–Venus Antardasha runs from 24/11/2028 to 25/09/2031. Mercury Mahadasha continues until 01/07/2042.

Practical meaning: The current Mercury-Mercury window may encourage reviewing communication, trust, private concerns, and shared obligations. The Mercury-Ketu window may place more emphasis on discernment, detachment from unhelpful assumptions, and re-evaluation of priorities. The Mercury-Venus window may bring relationship values, partnership needs, and emotional expectations more clearly into focus. None of these windows establishes that a relationship will begin, end, or change in a specific way.

8. Practical Emotional Guidance

Finding: Stability is best supported by converting emotional uncertainty into clear observations, explicit requests, and repeatable agreements.

Real astrological basis: The Moon in the 5th shows emotional investment; Venus in the 7th shows relationship importance; Mars as 7th lord in the 6th points to the need for practical conflict management; Mercury in the 8th highlights careful handling of sensitive and shared matters; Saturn-Rahu in the 4th highlights the value of emotional grounding.

Practical meaning:

- Identify what is directly observed before interpreting its meaning.
- State needs and boundaries plainly rather than expecting them to be inferred.
- Discuss practical matters—time, responsibilities, communication habits, and shared commitments—while calm.
- Allow time between an emotional trigger and a major conclusion.
- Use consistent routines, journaling, reflective conversation, or trusted support to strengthen inner stability.
- During the Mercury periods, review whether a concern is based on present evidence or on accumulated expectation.

9. Summary

Finding: The chart indicates emotionally meaningful relationships with possible recurring stress around expectations, disagreement, uncertainty, and the need for reassurance, while also showing strong capacity for structure and mature repair.

Real astrological basis: Moon is in the 5th; Venus is in the 7th; the 7th-house lord Mars is in the 6th; Mercury is in the 8th and rules the 12th; Saturn and Rahu are in the 4th; Saturn is in Capricorn and is the 5th-house lord.

Practical meaning: The most constructive path is calm clarification, practical cooperation, and emotional grounding rather than prediction or assumption. Missing from the supplied evidence are planetary degrees, divisional charts, nakshatra details, a complete aspect table, and any detailed compatibility chart; therefore, no finer-grained conclusion about a specific relationship or event is justified.

Suggested Next Steps

- 1 Separate observable relationship facts from assumptions before reacting to uncertainty.
- 2 Use calm, direct communication about expectations, boundaries, and practical responsibilities.
- 3 Build emotional steadiness through consistent routines, private reflection, and time before making major relationship decisions.
- 4 During the current Mercury periods, review communication, trust, shared matters, and emotional expectations carefully rather than treating temporary uncertainty as a final conclusion.

This is an astrology-based view of emotional and relationship patterns, not a mental-health diagnosis and not a prediction of betrayal, cheating, breakup, or another person's private thoughts or intentions. Important relationship decisions should be based on your real circumstances.
